Scope and Definitions

Welbilt, Inc. the “Company” or “we”) has developed this privacy policy out of respect for the privacy of our customers, visitors to our brands’ websites. This policy describes the personal information we collect, use, and disclose about individual consumers who visit or interact with this website, <https://www.belshaw.com/privacy-policy> visit any of our, facilities or locations, purchase or inquire about any of our products or services, contract with us to provide services or otherwise interact or do business with us.

Whenever you visit this site <https://www.belshaw.com/> we will collect some information from you automatically simply by you visiting and navigating through the site, and some voluntarily when you submit information using a form on the website, , enroll in or subscribe to our newsletter or marketing communications, request information about our products or services, or use any of the other interactive portions of our website. Through this website, we will collect information that can identify you and/or your activity.

Additionally, whenever you communicate, interact or do business with us, whether online or at any of our physical locations or facilities, or whether you are contracted to perform services for us we will be collecting personal information from you or about you in the course of our interaction or dealings with you.

The meaning of “Personal Information” may be defined based on your state or province of residence: in this policy, it means any information that can reasonably be used to identify an individual.

This privacy policy applies to “Consumers” as defined under various U.S. State consumer privacy laws, and all laws implementing or supplementing, or amending the foregoing, including regulations promulgated thereunder (collectively, “U.S. Privacy Laws”).

This Privacy Policy applies to individuals located in the United States and Canada. In the United States, it applies to Consumers under applicable state privacy laws. In Canada, it applies to individuals whose personal information in the course of their commercial activities. For purposes of this Policy, all such individuals are collectively referred to as “Consumers”.

This policy does not apply to information collected from or about job applicants regarding their application for employment or candidacy. If you are a job applicant, click <https://www.belshaw.com/privacy-policy> for our Job Applicant Notice and Privacy Policy.

This policy does not apply to our current and former employees and their family members, dependents, and beneficiaries; if you are a California resident who is a current or former employee of the Company or a family member, dependent, or beneficiary of any of our current or former employees, you may request access to our Employee Privacy Policy by sending an email to <https://www.belshaw.com/privacy-policy>

Consent and Notice

Visitors and Website Users

Belshaw collects, uses, and discloses Personal Information of visitors and website users with their knowledge and consent, as required by applicable law. Personal Information may be collected when you visit our websites, communicate with us, attend events, or otherwise interact with us online or offline.

Consent may be express or implied, depending on the sensitivity of the information and the purpose for which it is collected. Implied consent may be relied upon where the purpose is obvious or reasonably expected, such as responding to inquiries or providing requested information. Express consent will be obtained where required by law, including for sensitive information or for purposes not reasonably expected

Customers and Business Clients

In the context of commercial relationships, Belshaw collects, uses, and discloses Personal Information relating to representatives, contacts, or authorized users of its business customers and clients as reasonably necessary to establish, manage, and administer contractual and business relationships, in accordance with applicable privacy laws.

Where permitted by law, this collection, use, and disclosure is based on the existence of a business or contractual relationship, including for purposes such as account administration, communications, service delivery, invoicing, compliance, and contract management. Consent is obtained where required by law, including where the Personal Information is sensitive or where the intended use falls outside reasonable business expectations.

Independent Contractors

In accordance with applicable law, Belshaw may collect, use, or disclose Personal Information relating to independent contractors without consent where the information is reasonably required to establish, manage, or terminate an employment or engagement relationship, or to evaluate suitability for such a relationship. Where notice is required, this section serves as that notice.

Where Personal Information is used for purposes outside core recruitment, engagement, or management activities, such as the use of photographs or likenesses for marketing or promotional purposes, Belshaw will obtain consent where required by law.

Québec-Specific Notice

For individuals located in Québec, Belshaw collects, uses, and discloses Personal Information only for specific, explicit, and legitimate purposes. These purposes are communicated in clear and simple language at or before the time the Personal Information is collected, and the information is used only for identified purposes or as otherwise permitted by law.

Where consent is required under Québec law, it is obtained expressly and separately where appropriate and may be withdrawn in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Withdrawal of Consent

Where consent is required, individuals may withdraw their consent at any time, subject to legal or contractual restrictions and reasonable notice. Withdrawal of consent may affect Belshaw's ability to provide services, continue a business relationship, process an application, or maintain an engagement, as applicable. Requests to withdraw consent may be made by contacting us at servicemailbox@belshaw.com.

 - e. To engage in lawful monitoring of your activities and communications when you are on Company premises, or utilizing Company internet and WiFi connections, computers, networks, devices, software applications or systems.
 - f. To implement, monitor, and manage electronic security measures on devices that are used to access Company networks and systems.
 - g. To engage in corporate transactions requiring review of the relationships and contracts between the Company and the entity you represent or work for, such as for evaluating potential mergers and acquisitions of the Company.
 - h. To maintain commercial insurance policies and coverages.
 - i. To provide services to corporate customers/entity customers who may request certain pieces of information about a Company vendor or consultant (such as name and phone number) to permit the individual access or security clearance to their facility in advance of the Company independent contractor being dispatched to provide services at the facility of the corporate/entity customer or client.
 - j. To refer business representatives to the proper Securitas affiliated entity based on the products and/or services sought.
 - k. To evaluate, assess, and manage the Company's business relationship with vendors and service providers that provide services to the Company.
 - l. To improve user experience on Company computers, networks, devices, software applications or systems, and to debug, identify, and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality of our systems.
 - m. To detect security incidents involving potentially unauthorized access to and/or disclosure of Personal Information or other confidential information, including proprietary or trade secret information and third-party information that the Company receives under conditions of confidentiality or subject to privacy rights.

Do We Sell Your Information?

We do NOT and will not sell your personal information in exchange for monetary or other valuable consideration. We do not share your personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising.

Notice of Right to Opt-Out of Profiling, Automated Decision Making, and Targeted Advertising

Depending on your state of residence, you may have the right to opt out of targeted advertising and selling of your data. You may submit a request to exercise this right by submitting a request through one of the two options provided in the “Submitting a Consumer Request” section below.

We may create a profile regarding your interests and preferences for our products and services including your potential to purchase a product or service. For independent contractors, we may create a profile regarding predispositions, behavior, attitudes, intelligence, abilities, and aptitudes for recruiting and hiring assessments and decisions. Depending on your state of residence, you may have the right to opt out of profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects.

U.S. Consumer Privacy Rights

Under the applicable U.S. Privacy Laws, depending on state of residence, Consumers may have the following rights, which can be exercised directly or, in certain cases, through an authorized agent:

Right to Know	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to request, (1) the categories of personal information we have collected about you, (2) the categories of sources from which the personal information was collected, (3) the business or commercial purpose for collecting, selling, or sharing this information, (4) the categories of third parties with whom we share or have shared your personal information, (5) as applicable, the categories of personal information that we have sold or shared about you and the categories of third parties to whom the personal information was sold or shared, by category or categories of personal information for each category of third parties to whom the personal information was sold or shared, (6) the categories of personal information that we have disclosed about you for a business purpose and the categories of persons to whom it was disclosed for a business purpose, (7) a list of the specific third parties to whom we sell personal data, and (8) the reasons behind any profiling decisions made about you, the data used in making those decisions, and the actions you can take to secure a different decision in the future.
Right to Access	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right, in certain circumstances, to receive a copy of the personal information you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format that supports re-use, or to request the transfer of your personal information to another person.
Right to Portability	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right, in certain circumstances, to receive a copy of the personal information you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format that supports re-use, or to request the transfer of your personal information to another person.
Right to Confirm	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to confirm if we are processing your Personal Information and to access your Personal Information, as just stated above.
Right to Delete	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to request that we delete personal information that we collected from you, subject to certain exceptions.

Right to Correct	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to request we correct inaccurate personal information (to the extent such an inaccuracy exists) that we maintain about you.
Right to Opt-Out	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to opt-out of certain uses or disclosures of your personal information, including opting out of the selling of your personal information or the sharing of such information for cross-context behavioral advertising purposes. To learn more about this right and how to exercise it, please refer to the detailed discussion in the section above.
Right to Limit Sensitive Personal Information Processing	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to direct businesses to limit their use and disclosure of Sensitive Personal Information if we use or disclose it beyond certain internal business purposes. Where applicable, we will treat such a request as a revocation of any consent that you may have provided to your processing of Sensitive Personal Information.
Right to Non-Discrimination	You have the right to not be discriminated or retaliated against for exercising any of the above rights.
Right to Appeal	You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to appeal our refusal to take action on a request.

Submitting a Consumer Request

You can submit any of the above types of consumer requests through either of the options below:

1. Submit an online request on our website by clicking <https://www.belshaw.com/quick-contact>
2. Call our privacy toll-free line at 1-800-BELSHAW

How We Will Verify That It Is Really You Submitting The Request:

When you submit a Right to Know, Right to Access, Right to Delete, or Right to Correct request through one of the methods provided above, we will need to confirm your state of residence to determine which rights apply and then we will need to verify your identity.

We will ask you to provide some information in order to verify your identity and respond to your request. Specifically, we will ask you to verify information that can be used to link your identity to particular records in our possession, which depends on the nature of your relationship and interaction with us. This process may require us to request additional personal information from you, including, but not limited to, your first name, last name, email address, phone number, state/province of residence, and/or country. During verification, we will only request the minimum personal information necessary to correctly identify you for the purpose of fulfilling your request.

In certain circumstances, we may decline a request to exercise the rights described above, particularly where these rights are not available in your state, or when we are unable to verify your identity or locate your information in our systems. If we are unable to comply with all or a portion of your request, we will explain the reasons for declining to comply with your request.

Designated Authorized Agent:

You may, depending on your state of residence, have the right to designate an authorized agent to submit one of the above requests on your behalf. To do so, you must either (a) execute a valid, verifiable, and notarized power of attorney or (b) provide other written, signed authorization that we can then verify. We maintain the right to deny any request from an authorized agent that does not submit sufficient proof that they have been authorized by you to act on your behalf.

California Shine The Light:

The California Civil Code permits California Residents with whom we have an established business relationship to request that we provide you with a list of certain categories of personal information that we have disclosed to third parties for their direct marketing purposes during the preceding calendar year. To make such a request, please send an email to servicemailbox@belshaw.com Please mention that you are making a “California Shine the Light” inquiry.

Nevada Residents:

If you are a resident of the State of Nevada, Chapter 603A of the Nevada Revised Statutes permits a Nevada resident to opt out of future sales of certain covered information that a website operator has collected or will collect about the resident. To make such a request, please send an email to servicemailbox@belshaw.com Please mention that you are making a request pursuant to Nevada law.

Canadian Privacy Rights and Choices

This subsection sets out jurisdiction-specific information that applies to independent contractors located in Canada, reflecting both federal and provincial privacy frameworks such as the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), Alberta Personal Information Privacy Act (AB PIPA), British Columbia Personal Information Privacy Act (BC PIPA), and Quebec’s Law 25 (Bill 64 Act).

Depending on your province of residence, you have the following rights regarding their personal information:

Right to Access	You may have the right to access the personal information the Company holds about you. To the extent possible, the information will be provided in a portable and commonly used format so that it can be transferred to another entity.
Right to be Informed.	You may have the right to request information about the Company’s collection information, including how it will be used and with whom it may be shared
Right to Correct (Rectification)	You may have the right to request that incomplete or inaccurate Personal Information be corrected. The Company will make reasonable efforts to ensure that Personal Information is accurate, complete and up to date as necessary for the purposes for which it is used. Personal information used on an ongoing basis is assumed to be accurate unless a request for correction is received. You are responsible for notifying the company of any significant changes to their Personal Information.
Right to Rectification	You may have the right to correct your personal information.
Right to Portability	You may have the right to request your Personal Information in a structured, commonly used technology format and may request its transfer to another organization.
Right to Erasure (Right to be Forgotten)	You may have the right to request deletion of their Personal Information when it is no longer needed or when the organization has handled it unlawfully.
Right to Object to Automated-Decision-Making	You may have the right to request information about the technology used and the factors that led to the decision.

	The Company may rely solely on automated decision making to make engagement decisions.

Retention of Personal Information

We will retain each category of personal information in accordance with our established data retention policy and practice. In deciding how long to retain each category of personal information that we collect, we consider many criteria, including but not limited to the business purposes for which the Personal Information was collected; relevant federal, state and local recordkeeping laws; applicable statute of limitations for claims to which the information may be relevant; and legal preservation of evidence obligations.

We apply our data retention procedures on an annual basis to determine if the business purposes for collecting the personal information, and legal reasons for retaining the personal information, have both expired. If so, we will purge the information in a secure manner.

Co-Branded Services

From time to time, we may enter an arrangement with another company that is not owned by or affiliated with us to provide additional features on the Website. These arrangements may include business partners, sponsors, and co-branded online services (referred to here as “co-branded services”). Any information, including personal information, that you provide on one of these co-branded services may be shared with these partners. By participating in activities or providing your information on these co-branded services, you consent to our providing your information to those partners. Separate privacy policies may apply to these partners’ uses of your personal information.

Third Party Vendors

We may use other companies and individuals to perform certain functions on our behalf. Examples include administering e-mail services and running special promotions. Such parties only have access to the personal information needed to perform these functions and may not use or store the information for any other purpose.

Business Transfers

In the event we sell or transfer a particular portion of its business assets, information of consumers, contractors and applicants may be one of the business assets transferred as part of the transaction. If substantially all of our assets are acquired, information of consumers, contractors and applicants may be transferred as part of the acquisition.

You provide your phone number to us voluntarily and solely so we can send you these communications. Your phone number is shared only with our SMS service provider] and not with third parties or affiliates for marketing purposes.

You can opt-out any time by replying STOP or get assistance by replying HELP or contacting us directly by phone 800.578.2547 or email servicemailbox@belshaw.com

Message frequency may vary. Message and data rates may apply. Consent is not a condition of service.

Compliance with Law and Safety

We may disclose specific personal and/or Sensitive Personal Information based on a good faith belief that such disclosure is necessary to comply with or conform to the law or that such disclosure is necessary to protect our employees or the public.

Use of Cookies, Pixels, and Other Tracking Technologies

Our website may store or retrieve information on your browser, mostly in the form of cookies. A cookie is a small piece of data (text file) that a website – when visited by a user – places on the user’s device to remember information about the user, such as the user’s language preference or login information.

This type of cookie is set by us and is referred to as a “first-party cookies.” Our website uses first-party cookies primarily to make the website work as you expect it to. For example, we use the information we collect through first-party cookies to allow you to navigate between pages efficiently, analyze how well our website is performing, and understand the content that you spent the most time reviewing. In some cases, we use first-party cookies to store information that we use for targeted advertising.

We also incorporate cookies and similar technologies, such as pixels, tags, and web beacons, from outside our website’s domain (“third-party cookies”). Third-party cookies gather information to enable our vendors to provide a range of services to us, including targeted advertising and measuring the success of our advertising campaigns.

Below is a detailed list of the categories of first- and third-party cookies we use on our website. You can prevent the collection of data by non-essential performance, functional, and marketing cookies by clicking on our website footer and toggling off the related functionality.

How we use cookies

We make use of cookies under the following circumstances and for the following reasons:

- Provide you with services available through the website and to enable you to use some of its features
- Authenticate users and prevent fraudulent use of user accounts
- Identify if users have accepted the use of cookies on the website
- Compile data about website traffic and how users use the website to offer a better website experience
- Understand and save visitor preferences for future visits, such as remembering your login details or language preference, to provide you with a more personal experience, or to avoid you having to re-enter your preferences every time you use the website
- Track your browsing habits to enable us to show advertising which is more likely to be of interest to you, including advertising by third parties on our website

Essential Cookies

Essential cookies are necessary for the website to function and cannot be switched off in our systems. They are usually only set in response to actions made by you which amount to a request for services, such as setting your privacy preferences, logging in or filling in forms. You can set your browser to block or alert you about these cookies, but blocking these cookies will prevent the website from working correctly or might prevent the Website from working at all.

Non-Essential Cookies

Non-Essential cookies are not essential to the website functionality but serve some other unique purpose in three subcategories:

1. “Performance” cookies (sometimes referred to as static cookies) collect information about the user’s behavior on the website without collecting personal information, for example:
 - Pages the user visits.
 - Ads the user views.
 - Ads or site features that the user clicks.

2. “Functional” cookies (sometimes called preference cookies) track and remember the user’s preferences and past choices on the website to provide a personalized user experience. For example, functional cookies can collect:
 - Usernames
 - Passwords
 - Regions
3. “Targeting” cookies (sometimes called preference cookies) can track:
 - Content the user views
 - Links the user follows
 - The user’s browser and device information and IP address

Please note: Organizations can use targeting cookies to track and influence users by building user profiles or displaying advertisements.

DAA

Many advertising companies that collect information for interest-based advertising are members of the Digital Advertising Alliance (DAA) which maintains a self-regulatory program along with a website where people can opt out of interest-based advertising from its members. To opt-out of website interest-based advertising provided by the DAA's participating companies, visit the DAA's opt-out portal available at <http://optout.aboutads.info/>.

- To opt-out of data collection for interest-based advertising across mobile applications by participating companies, download the DAA's AppChoices mobile application opt-out offering found here: <https://youradchoices.com/appchoices>.

Non-Participant Opt-Out Options

- Some of our vendors do not participate in the DAA self-regulatory program for online behavioral advertising or have developed their own processes for allowing consumers to opt-out: <https://branch.app.link/optout>
- Some devices and apps do not have access to web-based browser cookie opt-outs. To learn more about the advertising opt-outs provided by your mobile device's operating system (like iOS and Android) or the device manufacture, click here.

Challenging Compliance

Depending on your province of residence, you may challenge Belshaw's compliance with this Policy. Challenges must be submitted in writing to the Privacy Officer with sufficient detail to allow for appropriate investigation and response. Belshaw will respond to such requests within 30 days of receipt or as otherwise required by law.

Breach Notification

In the event of unauthorized access to Personal Information, Belshaw will notify the appropriate regulatory authorities and affected individuals if the breach poses a risk of significant harm, as determined by the Privacy Officer. Notification may be delayed if required to avoid interfering with an investigation conducted by law enforcement or another authorized agency.

Belshaw will maintain a record of all security incidents involving Personal Information and will implement reasonable measures to mitigate risk and prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future. A copy of the breach record may be provided to regulatory authorities upon request.

Safeguards

Belshaw protects Personal Information in our possession and control by using security safeguards appropriate to the sensitivity of the information. These safeguards are designed to protect against loss, theft, and unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use, or modification. The Company applies these protections regardless of the format in which the information is stored. The nature and extent of the safeguards vary depending on the sensitivity, volume, and storage method of the information. A higher level of protection is applied to more sensitive categories of information.

External Links

Our website contains links to other sites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such websites. To help ensure the protection of your privacy, we recommend that you review the Privacy Policy of any site you visit via a link from our website.

Passwords

The personal data record created through your registration with our website can only be accessed with the unique password associated with that record. To protect the integrity of the information contained in this record, you should not disclose or otherwise reveal your password to third parties.

Children Under the Age of 16

We do not knowingly sell or share the personal information of consumers under 16 years of age.

How We Protect the Information that We Collect

The protection of the information that we collect about visitors to this website is of the utmost importance to us and we take every reasonable measure to ensure that protection, including:

- We use commercially reasonable tools and techniques to protect against unauthorized access to our systems.
- We restrict access to private information to those who need such access in the course of their duties for us.
- We keep automatically collected data and voluntarily collected data separate at all times.
- We use internal encryption on all data stores that house voluntarily captured data.

International Visitors

If you reside in the European Economic Area, European Union, Great Britain, or Switzerland, submitted personally identifiable information to the Company, and want to request a copy of, correct, delete, or limit the ways the Company uses the information, send an email to servicemailbox@belshaw.com indicating your request. The Company will use reasonable and appropriate measures to honor your request.]

International Transfers

Some or all of the Personal Information collected by Belshaw may be stored or processed in jurisdictions outside of Canada, including the United States. As a result, this information may be subject to access requests from foreign governments, courts, or law enforcement agencies in accordance with the laws of those jurisdictions.

Consent to Terms and Conditions

By using this website, you consent to all terms and conditions expressed in this Privacy Policy.

Changes to Our Privacy Policy

As our services evolve and we perceive the need or desirability of using information collected in other ways, we may from time to time amend this Privacy Policy. We encourage you to check our website frequently to see the current Privacy Policy in effect and any changes that may have been made to them. If we make material changes to this Privacy Policy, we will post the revised Privacy Policy and the revised effective date on this website. Please check back here periodically or contact us at the address listed at the end of this Privacy Policy.

Consumers With Disabilities
